What is your vision in retirement?

Summer 2013

Will you be able to sustain your lifestyle throughout your life span? Have you discussed your thoughts and ideas with your spouse? If not, you may want to candidly engage in conversation about how the two of you want to make the transition.

You may want to relax at home while your spouse may want to travel. As you talk about the future and the resources you will have available, consider factors such as rising inflation and longer life expectancies. Will your combined incomes be enough to sustain your lifestyle throughout your life span?

Besides Social Security and your PERF pension, have you explored other avenues of securing a steady cash flow during your retirement years? You may want to meet with a financial advisor to discuss your retirement needs based on your goals.

There are many things to reflect on as you approach retirement. Be prepared by finding out more about your PERF pension benefit. Register for a retirement benefit workshop in your area.
